The International Baccalaureate Programme emphasizes a global perspective that encourages students to become active, compassionate, and lifelong learners. The Middle Years Programme “provides a framework of academic challenge that encourages students to embrace and understand the connections between traditional subjects and the real world, becoming critical and reflective thinkers.” (from What can I be? © International Baccalaureate Organization 2007)

Through the use of the learner profile, the IB aims to develop and promote the education of the whole person. Students strive to be inquirers, critical thinkers, open-minded, knowledgeable, communicators, principled, caring, risk-takers, balanced and reflective.
